

ALL Player-Pianos ARE NOT Pianola Pianos

There is just as much difference in the several kinds of instruments as there is in watches.

The Pianola Piano is a trade mark name for the best player piano in existence. The name itself is your protection in buying a piano that all the members of the family can play without any previous training.

TRYING TO PROVE Cahill IS INSANE

Number of Witnesses Introduced by Defense—Commonwealth Rests.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Rocky Mount, Va., April 19.—The trial of Dr. J. S. Cahill, charged with the murder of G. R. Smithers, which was begun in Judge Campbell's court here yesterday, is still in progress.

Considerable headway was made in the case today. The attorneys for the Commonwealth rested their case yesterday, and to-day the defense introduced a number of witnesses in an attempt to prove that Dr. Cahill was mentally unbalanced. These witnesses testified to having noticed many peculiar actions on the part of the defendant, prior to the killing, which led them to believe that he was of unsound mind. Dr. A. D. Wood, a specialist of Bluefield, W. Va., was introduced for this purpose, and he testified as to insane acts on the part of Cahill. A number of witnesses from Henry county, Cahill's old home, testified as to insanity in the Cahill family, the defense seeking to prove that it is hereditary.

It is contended by the defense that Smithers invaded Cahill's home, and it will invoke the unwritten law and emotional insanity as their plea for acquittal.

Every inch of ground is being stubbornly contested and the case bids fair to be a great legal battle.

MOTION TO DISMISS
OVERRULED BY JUDGE

Newport News Scores First Victory in Proceedings for Annexation.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Newport News, Va., April 19.—Newport News scored her first victory in the annexation proceedings now pending in the Circuit Court of Warwick county to-day, when Judge George Shackelford, of Orange county, sitting by the Governor's designation, in the stead of Judge D. G. Tyler, overruled a demurrer and a technical motion to dismiss, made by counsel for Warwick and Elizabeth City counties, and announced that he would begin hearing the case on its merits to-morrow morning. Court adjourned this afternoon in order that the judge might drive over the territory proposed to be annexed.

These proceedings were begun six months ago, but until to-day no progress has been made, on account of the technical points raised by counsel for the counties. It is proposed to annex all of the territory south of the city, bounded by the James River, Hampton Roads and Salter's Creek, and certain settlements on the easterly and northerly outskirts of the city. It is estimated that the population of the city would be increased 10,000 by the proposed extension of the limits.

Both Warwick and Elizabeth City are making a strenuous fight against the extension, and to-day the Old Dominion Land Company and Newport News Light and Water Company were made parties defendant. The land company owns many acres of vacant land within the territory south of the city. The defendants have an array of counsel, including several of the leading lawyers of this vicinity, and Judge Christian, of Richmond.

BOARD STANDS PAT
Will Abide by Taft's Decision of "What Is Whiskey?"

Washington, April 19.—President Taft's board, made up of Secretaries Taft, Nagel and Wilson yesterday decided to adhere to its original ruling regarding the labeling of whiskey under the pure food law, made in accordance with the President's decision of "what is whiskey."

There was considerable dissatisfaction on the ruling on the part of distillers who use neutral spirits. The board held that the whiskey could be made from grain, and that only mixtures of grain distillates could be called "blends" that when given distillate is mixed with distillate from any material other than grain, it is a compound, and must be so labeled. The decision is of great importance to the whiskey business.

TWO NARROW ESCAPES.

Youth Thrown From Tracks by Trail Into Ditch Filled With Water.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Cape Charles, Va., April 19.—Being saved from death's grasp twice in as many minutes was the experience of William Smith, a nineteen-year-old youth, of Melita, yesterday morning, and in both instances his escape was miraculous.

The young man was walking along the tracks of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, in the vicinity of Melita Station, and in order to avoid an approaching train he stepped from the track and was struck by a north-bound freight train, which he did not see.

His body was caught by the cow-catcher and carried a short distance, and then rolled off, and he was precipitated into a ditch. A number of railroad men who witnessed the accident ran to his assistance and rescued him, as he was about to drown.

Besides internal injuries the youth sustained a badly lacerated scalp and numerous bruises. His recovery is doubtful.
